

North Carolina's excellent business climate and our skilled workforce can allow us to transition our economy successfully over time. But we must have relief from misdirected national trade policy that undercuts an entire industry in the midst of the current economic downturn.

I appreciate your consideration of this request.

###